

Protect Your Important Documents

Getting your financial affairs in order is always a good idea, and organizing your important documents is a vital first step in that process. Part of organizing your documents means deciding which should go in a safe deposit box.

Although you may feel like keeping your important documents at home, where they are handy and easily accessible to you, a safe deposit box is perhaps your safest option. There's no risk of losing your documents (via theft or simple misplacement), or having them destroyed in the event of an at-home fire.

A safe deposit box at Hawaiian Financial FCU is the perfect place for:

- Deeds and titles
- Marriage licenses/divorce decrees
- Birth certificates
- Home inventory
- Social Security cards
- Stock certificates
- List of bank accounts, brokerage accounts, certificates of deposit, and credit cards (with account numbers and branch locations).

Come to Hawaiian Financial FCU for your document storage needs. Call 832-8700 for more information and availability.
